

DEFROST WATER TRAY

In case of replacement of a compressor, it is necessary to compare the no. of the drop tray indicated in the spare parts list, with the no. indicated in table A because if the nos. are different, it is necessary to replace not only the compressor but also the defrost water tray (see no. in the table A).

WARNING: The drop tray is an important element to guarantee a good functioning of the appliance and its safety. To obtain this it is necessary that the tray adheres perfectly to the casing of the compressor and collects completely all the water coming from the drain channel, therefore adaptations of tray models incompatible with compressors must be avoided.

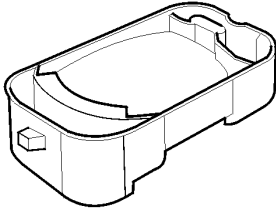

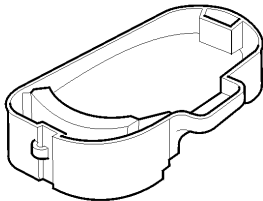

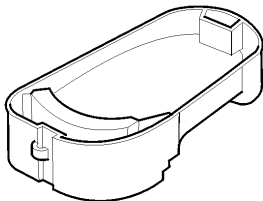

In some appliances of the same range, the drain channel lies in different positions, therefore it is necessary to use trays with supplementary compartments to collect water.
