

New design of the PT 500 sensor.

- See picture 1 for previous design with integrated sensor and cable.
- New design, see picture 2, means a separation of sensor and cable with a connector.

At a service call can the previous design (picture1) be replaced by the new design (picture 2) without problem. Though you have to order both sensor and cable with the new design. Same thing with the opposite.

